

While You're Waiting For? And the Mountains Echoed

While You're Waiting For? And the Mountains Echoed

Khaled Hosseini's new novel And the Mountains Echoed tells family stories of loss and love from multiple points of view. There is a long waiting list for this book at the library, so here are some ideas for other books you might enjoy reading while you wait.

The obvious first choices are Hosseini's other popular and well received novels The Kite Runner and A Thousand Splendid Suns. Both stories are set in Afghanistan, the author's native land, and reveal the impact the country's political turmoil has upon its people, while focusing on more intimate stories of friendship and family.

If you have already read Hosseini's other titles you might try The Moonlit Cage by Linda Holeman. This novel is also set in Afghanistan and follows the difficult life of Darya in the mid nineteenth century in a small village. This is a heart wrenching, yet ultimately redeeming story of a woman discovering her value.

An author that has much of the same appeal as Hosseini is Jhumpa Lahiri. Read more »
For the Love of Reading Fiction While You're Waiting For? And the Mountains Echoed
Posted by Elizabeth G. on Jul 31, 2013 Elizabeth G.'s blog Add new comment

