

Children's Homework Center

- An Evening with Amy Krouse Rosenthal

Main Library Children's Program Children's Homework Center

Monday, April 15, 2013 | 6:30 pm - 7:15 pm

Ideas! Wordplay! Sneak previews of new books! Lollipops if you're nice! Join us for a special evening presentation and creative conversation with New York Times bestselling author Amy Krouse Rosenthal. Amy is a person who likes to make things: children's books, grown-up books, short films, salads, connections with the universe, something out of nothing, wishes. Her 20+ books for children include Little Pea, Spoon, Duck! Rabbit!, Plant a Kiss, Yes Day, and Wumbers. According to the NY Times, Amy's books "radiate fun the way tulips radiate spring: they are elegant and spirit-lifting." (Find out more about Amy, her life-isms, missions, TED talks, and the amazing videos she's made on her website: www.whoisamy.com)

Registration Required

Contact:

MCPL Childrens Services

Contact Number:

(812) 349-3100

Presenter:

Josh Wolf

Read more »

- Event Type:
Main Library Children's Program
- Location:
Children's Homework Center

Notify me about similar events

Download event to a calendar

