Stephen King wrote an article for the most recent EW magazine (June 3/10) entitled "My Summer Reading List". He disagrees with the notion that summer reading should include heavy titles such as War and Peace, but promises that none of his recommendations "will insult your intelligence, but all will take you away to new and interesting places full of excitement, danger, and maybe a few laughs." Of the twelve titles on the list, Michael Koryta's next most recent book, The Cypress House .. is included! King says, "[g]angsters, a silent but heroic drifter with second sight, and a whopper of a Florida hurricane. How can you go wrong?"

Love the international buzz for this great local author! Be sure to catch him next week!
