

Fringe

Fringe is a fairly new (2009) science fiction television series. The show is currently in its fourth season on the air. The library has the first three seasons of this show in its collection.

Fringe is a television program about the most unusual and abnormal occurrences that result in crimes by people who have special powers. The special powers include telekinesis, teleportation, mind control, astral projection, precognition and mutation. The federal government is aware of that certain individuals possess these unique abilities and has responded by creating a special agency to investigate them. The main investigators are an FBI agent and an experimental scientist. Does this sound familiar, perhaps like another television show from the early 1990's? Yes, if you guessed the X-Files then you are correct. If liked the X-Files then you will love Fringe.

Posted by Burl C. on November 30, 2011

Blogs:

Sights and Sounds

Information, Answers & Reviews

Reviews Subjects:

Television

Reviews Titles:

Fringe. The complete first season [videorecording]