

It's Your Money

Knowing Your Net Worth: It's Not Just for Millionaires

PHOTO: AK ROCKEFELLER

When you hear the words "net worth," you might picture people in limousines or country clubs. But many money experts say knowing your net worth—that's the value of all your money and possessions, minus all your debts—is valuable no matter what your financial situation is. Your goal is for your net worth to be higher rather than lower, of course, but even if it's a negative

Read more

Posted by Ryan S. on June 17, 2016

It's Your Money

Ryan S.'s blogLog in to post comments

Smart Investing: Grow Your Money the Solid, Research-Based Way

If you've thought about growing your money through investments, IU Professor of Finance Richard Shockley has some bad news: successful investing isn't very exciting. Read more

Posted by Ryan S. on May 23, 2016

It's Your Money

Ryan S.'s blogLog in to post comments

Cable-Cutting 101: Try These Alternatives to Expensive TV & Movies

PHOTO: KAT (FLICKR) Read more

Posted by Ryan S. on April 11, 2016
It's Your Money
Ryan S.'s blogLog in to post comments

Es Su Dinero! Spanish-Language Money Smarts

Despite yesterday's heavy snowfall, the It's Your Money Project joined Free Community Tax Service at St. Paul Catholic Center in offering a valuable financial resource to Spanish speakers. With help from Liliana Embriz of El Centro Comunal Latino, congregation members attending the afternoon Spanish-language church service received a number of tips on practical topics like choosing the right credit card, Social Security benefits, sending money out of the country, and avoiding fraud.

It's Your Money will also be tabling at Spanish Free Community Tax Service on February 28 (St. Paul) and March 3 (Main Library). Free literature on a variety of money topics in English, Spanish, and other languages is always available upon request; email [money \[at\] mcpl.info](mailto:money[at]mcpl.info) for details.

Posted by Ryan S. on February 15, 2016
It's Your Money
Ryan S.'s blogLog in to post comments

Don't Pay for Tax Prep? Free Community Tax Service Is Back This Year

It's income tax season again, which means we're seeing lots of ads (and people in costume) trying to persuade us to get our returns processed by a commercial accounting firm. But the money-smart alternative, United Way of Monroe County's Free Community Tax Service, is more popular than ever, and it's easy to see why. There's the price?no charge, hooray!?!but several other reasons make FCTS the way to go.Read more

Posted by Ryan S. on February 2, 2016

It's Your Money

Ryan S.'s blogLog in to post comments

Talk to an Expert Featured in the Indiana Daily Student

PHOTO: INDIANA DAILY STUDENT

People who come to our Talk to an Expert program usually make an appointment, but I was pleased to see a surprise walk-in at last night's sessions. Reporter Annie Garau from the Indiana Daily Student came by to find out more about TTAE, and it was great opportunity to share what the It's Your Money project offers the campus community. Thanks to Annie for the great article that ran in today's IDS?we're looking forward to seeing new IU faces at our events!

The next TTAE sessions are February 17 and 18. You can make your appointment by [emailing money \[at\] mcpl.info](mailto:money@mcpl.info), or calling (812) 349-3263.

Posted by Ryan S. on January 22, 2016

It's Your Money

Ryan S.'s blogLog in to post comments