Ashfall, written by Mike Mullin (Author of Cenizas) writes a story about a fifteen year old, Alex, who is faced with a super volcano, starvation, and a need for shelter. The supervolcano turns the world into a hard place for young Alex as he is faced with starvation, need for food, shelter and water. He is attracted by people how under all the masive falling amounts of ash have gone insane from the events that had taken place from the super eruption.
