Write a review of the book, including plot points, if you wish:

I thought that this was a very good book. It is the last of a great series and I think it was the best. It was an allegory and it was about a boy whom finds out he is a prince in another world. He is to follow a book for instructions and the book leads him on many adventures. In this book he willingly gives himself up so that his companions can go free, but in the end they win and the Dragon loses.
