

Midwest Collaborative for Library Services (formerly INCOLSA)

Website

<http://www.mcls.org/>

MCLS is a non-profit membership organization comprised of all types of libraries in Indiana and Michigan. MCLS provides libraries a convenient, single point of contact for training, group purchasing, and technical support for electronic resources. MCLS saves member libraries time and money.

Description

Please Note: The merge between INCOLSA and MCL is now complete. They are now known as MCLS (Midwest Collaborative for Library Services).

Contact

Randy Dykhuis (Executive Director)
dykhuisr [at] mcls.org
800-530-9019

Additional Contact

Brian Austin (System Administrator)
austinb [at] mcls.org

Community Organizations Subjects

2 - Education Libraries Professional Associations

November 1, 2016

Links

[1] <https://mcpl.info/community/midwest-collaborative-library-services-formerly-incolsa>

[2] <http://www.mcls.org/>

[3] <https://mcpl.info/category/community-organization-subjects/2-education>

[4] <https://mcpl.info/category/community-organization-subjects/2-education/libraries>

[5] <https://mcpl.info/category/community-organization-subjects/9-membership-organization/professional-associations>